

"NEW MONEY FOR OLD" AWAITS YOU

Uncle Sam Ready to Play
Aladdin and Santa Claus
Together.

A Christmas gift in cash, whether to your wife or your bootblack, is received with greater appreciation when the banknotes are crisp or "the coin new and shining."

Uncle Sam, who is a sort of Santa Claus, knows this, so he has sent $2,000,000 in freshly-engraved yellow and greenbacks, and newly-coined gold pieces to the Sub-Treasury in Wall Street.

"New money for old" is now the Aladdin-like cry there. But no one can get more than $300 in new money without paying a small premium—the express charges on it from the mints to the sub-treasury.

Uncle Sam, who loves all his children, demands this premium so that any fellow will have a chance to get a bright $5 gold piece and put it in the baby's bank.

DEBUTANTES ON TIPTOE.

Cinderella Cotillon Has First Dance of the Season.

The long established Cinderella Cotillon held its first dance of the season in Sherry's last night. The name is derived from the fact that at midnight the dance is ended. Alexander Hadden led the cotillon and most of the debutantes were present. Among the patronesses are Misses E. Henry, Harriman, W. Seward Webb, Stephen Van Rensselaer, Frederic Gallatin, C. Leonard Blair, H. L. Satterlee, Anson Phelps Stokes and Dallas Bach Pratt. In the cotillon the last night the members of the Riverside Drive set enjoyed the "Century" dances. A cotillon was led by Dr. George H. Bell, dancing with Miss Rosalie Gardner Jones. Mrs. Oliver Livingston Jones directs these dances.

THE REWARD OF HEROISM.

BY WALTER A. SINCLAIR.

(The Lighthouse Board notified the men of sunken Lightship No. 38 that they were put on waiting orders without pay.—News Item.)

Yes, take away the heroes' pay.
They tried their best to save
The floating light, which sank from sight.
Beneath the ocean's wave,
The ship went down, they did not drown,
And now with life renewed
They live to learn they did but earn
The land's ingratitude.

By day and night they manned the light
And sent the warning ray
To guide the souls from off the shoals
Where unseen danger lay.
While we sat warm, they braved the storm.
That swept the angry wave,
The light boat back the cloaking black
To cheer and warn and save.

They felt their ship beneath them dip,
They knew that it would sink,
But still the white and warning light
Throughout the night would blink
Its signal clear where not to steer
Until, from death's jaws torn,
They leave the ship as in the grip
Of wave 'tis downward borne.

BEGGARS GOING FROM TOWN.

Charity Society Agents Have Criminals on the Run.

The criminal beggar is rapidly being driven out of New York, according to the report of the Committee on Mendicancy of the Charity Organization Society, just issued, and communities outside New York are getting the benefit of him.

Some of the most famous figures in the mendicant world have passed through the hands of the committee and on to punishment. Among them were "Al" Costello, "Tronco", who with a band of colleagues, appropriated names of eminent persons; the former gambler Crawford, whose begging letters and press moved even hard-headed business men to pity, and the "Triton", Gray and Norlander.

The number of arrests by members of the Mendicancy Squad was 1,882, and by the remainder of the police force 665, a total of 2,547.

PISTOL FIGHT WITH THIEVES

Police in Running Battle with Big Gang Seen Robbing Cars.

Twenty shots were exchanged between two policemen, a watchman and nine thieves in a running fight last night along the tracks of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad. The fight started at Ninety-sixth street and continued to Eighty-eighth street, where the thieves escaped.

Frank McCarthy, a watchman, discovered the thieves plundering a freight car at Ninety-sixth street. With Policemen Hickey and Verrier he advanced upon the thieves, who opened fire. The police then got their revolvers into play.

Louis Thompson, eighteen years old, of No. 121 West End avenue, was arrested later on.

Within a few weeks the New York Central road has had stolen from its freight cars near Ninety-eighth street more than $7,000 worth of goods.

FELL SEVEN FLOORS, UNHURT

Plumber Landed in Basement and Said It Was Cold.

John Doyle, twenty-three years old, a plumber, fell seven stories to the basement of a new building at No. 74 East One Hundred and Eighteenth street yesterday afternoon, struck the girders on each floor as he fell, hit the basement floor and then remarked that it was very cold down there. When Policeman Lien, of the East One Hundred and Fourth Street Station, arrived on the scene, Doyle was rubbing himself in order to stir up his circulation.

Dr. Felder, of the Harlem Hospital, looked Doyle over and found he had sustained nothing more dangerous than a number of bruises. Doyle refused to go to the hospital, and was taken to his home in the ambulance.

How They Do Things at Lamberts'.

"You are a house that does what you say," said one of our customers the other day. The remark was naturally suggested by a display of Christmas gifts, surprising in its extent and rich in its novelty. There is no store in town more easily reached than ours, even if it is not in a swell neighborhood where high rents and other expenses are paid by the patrons at the counters. And there is no jewelry store that will so well repay a visit. If you have not made up your mind about your holiday gifts, our stock of diamond and gold jewelry, brooches, bracelets, rings, clocks, watches, earrings, art novelties in silver, etc., will help you to a decision.

Don't hesitate to ask the price of the most beautiful articles you see; all figures are low at Lamberts'.

Come early and get ahead of the jostling Christmas crowds. Gifts chosen now will be laid away until the Saturday before Christmas if you wish, and you pay for them when you call to receive them.

Brill Brothers' XMAS SALES

The extraordinary volume of clothing business done by the Brill stores during November and the first week of this month has resulted in breaking many of our most popular lines of suits and overcoats. Consequently we've rearranged our stocks—a process that has brought many garments to very low figures that do not adequately indicate their actual worth. VALUES were responsible for our big November business. Our Xmas sales afford even greater VALUES, and by suggesting numerous desirable articles solve the "Gift Question" as far as men and boys are concerned.
